

I am writing to urge you not to weaken New Jersey's strict "Do Not Call" legislation. I pay my phone bill for the purpose of having a telephone for MY CONVENIENCE -- not to be constantly interrupted and harrassed by telemarketers (many of whom are getting quite pushy and hostile). I would like to have the right to a little peace and privacy in my own home. If someone needs to solicit me that badly, they can mail me literature. Please leave our law alone. Perhaps you may want to consider strengthening yours?
